Good Will Emissary Plans To Give First Speech Of His Trip at Noon LEAVES AT MIDNIGHT

After Formal Dinner Party Will Return to Battleship — Nicaragua Next

By LAURENCE SULLIVAN (I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)
MAPALA, Honduras, Nov. 26.—President-Elect Herbert Hoover of the United States, came to Amapala today to make a gala occasion for the semi-tropical city, which was thronged with visitors from far and near.

The weather was windy with skies partly overcast when the U.S. S. Maryland, bearing the Hoover party, steamed into the Gulf of Fonseca at 7:30 o'clock.

Everyone was eager to get their first close view of Central America, often in the news but not familiar ground to many of those on board.

This was the eighth day of the voyage and all members of the Hoover party were glad of the prospect of setting foot on land.

Neither Hoover nor Mrs. Hoover had been bothered by the gale encountered as the ship crossed the Gulf of Tehuantepec. Their son Alain and a few other members of the party were seasick during the storm when the Maryland pitched heavily.

Hoover's first Latin-American stop today will be a double-barreled affair. He will call at Amapala and then go ten miles across the Gulf of Fonseca to La Union.

The Maryland will anchor about six miles off the island upon which Amapala is located, in the Gulf of Fonseca. The Hoover party will leave the battleship at 11 a.m. in launches and land at Amapala where they will be greeted by representatives and perhaps by President Miguel Paz Barahona, himself.

After luncheon in Amapala, launches will take the party to La Union where representatives of Salvador will greet the president-elect. It is expected that Hoover will reach La Union about 4 p.m. All members of the Salvador cabinet were included in the reception committee, but it is uncertain whether President Romero Bosque will be there.

After a formal dinner the party will return to the Maryland which will get underway about midnight for Corinto, Nicaragua. Arrival at Corinto was planned for 10 a.m. tomorrow.

He was knighted in 1915 by the King of Spain for his efforts in historical research and received numerous other honors and degrees.

DEATH TOLL IN EUROPE STORM GROWS HOURLY

Damage to Shipping Worst Ever Known—Many Ships Call for Assistance

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Northwestern Europe was in the grip of one of the worst storms in many years today. There was a mounting death toll as lowlands were flooded and scores of ships sent out calls for help. Denmark, Germany, the Netherlands, and France were all badly hit. The barometer was 28.25 at Copenhagen last night—the lowest since 1907—and it continued to fall.

Damage to shipping was staggering. Scattered reports came from along the seaboard and from ships at sea. Along the French coast the Sylvia Bell, out of Bayonne, was driven towards the rocks off Plomarch, and was taken in tow by the steamer Calea.

The Italian steamer Goldoni sent out an SOS off Finistere and then reported it was proceeding safely after repairs had been made.

The steamer tours, from west Africa, made La Rochelle, her bridge ripped partly off and one mast carried away.

The Admiral Ponty a 6000-ton ship, sent out distress signals, which were answered by the Aquitania and the Maoris. There was a crew of 90 and several passengers on the Admiral Ponty.

She reported leaking and that the forward hold was filling. The Maoris reported that she had reached the ship and was aiding her and the Aquitania continued toward New York. The tug Iroise left Brest to help the Admiral Ponty which cleared Havre Saturday.

The Jugoslav steamship Olga was reported in distress and the German sailing ship Pommeran, 2376 ton merchant marine training vessel was abandoned and

LABOR DELEGATES TALK IN CHURCHES

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 26.—(UPI)—The American Federation of Labor began the second week of its annual convention today, after a Sunday in which federation leaders spoke from various church pulpits, voicing the need of Christian principles in relations between capital and labor.

Important resolutions, including one asking congress to investigate the Vestris disaster, were to come before the delegates for action today.

Among some of the thoughts left with congregations by labor officials yesterday were:

President William A. Green: Righteousness in human relationship is the basis of all religious philosophy. The mandate of Moses, "Thou shalt not oppress an hired servant," is just as applicable today as it was centuries ago."

American Entrance Into World Court Held Possibility

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Taking a cue from the White House, the state department expects to renew shortly the negotiations with the powers looking toward possible American entrance into the world court, it was announced today.

President Coolidge told a number of senators at a breakfast conference Saturday he was anxious to secure American participation in the court.

The chief stumbling block has been the senate reservation which declares the court can not give an advisory opinion, without America's consent, on any dispute in which the United States has or claims an interest. Thus far the biggest nations, notably France and Great Britain, have objected to American adhesion to the court on the basis of this reservation.

Auto Knocks Street Car From Tracks

FRESNO, Nov. 26.—(UPI)—In an encounter between an automobile and a one man street car here, the trolley was badly worsted. After being knocked from the rails, it finally brought up on the front lawn of a home on McKenzie avenue.

Two passengers on the street car, Charles Paul, 16, and Blair Eastman, 24, were injured and taken to hospital for treatment.

W. F. Sweeney, driver of the automobile, was unhurt and his machine was little damaged.

LINDBERGH OFF ON FAST TRIP TO NEW YORK

Trans-Atlantic Flier Who Was Reported Missing Alights in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 26.—(UPI)—Charles A. Lindbergh, reported missing yesterday and feared a victim of an airplane crash, will take off from Kelly field today for an unannounced destination, probably St. Louis.

The transatlantic flyer dropped out of the sky at Kelly field yesterday afternoon. The nation had been nervous about him all day yesterday following reports that an airplane had made a forced landing south of Brownsville, Tex.

Then the colonel was reported safe at Los Naranjos ranch near Tampico, Mexico, where he was hunting ducks with friends.

From Brownsville, Maj. Bernard Law led a squadron of three planes in search of the plane reported in trouble.

Apparently the only basis for the report was an announcement by an attendant at the Fort Brown meteorological station that he sighted a plane Saturday night which appeared to be seeking a landing place.

The plane was lighted and circled several miles from the station and then headed back for Mexico.

The impression gained from the announcement was that the plane either had crashed or made a forced landing.

Thousands of calls swamped correspondents on the border, even the state department at Washington calling for news of Lindbergh.

GIRL SHOT IN EYE MAY LOSE LIFE, REPORT

"Unloaded Gun" In Hands of Two Boys Results In Serious Mishap

THE "UNLOADED" gun was today blamed for the shooting of a young girl at Delhi Saturday afternoon, causing a wound which probably will cause her death.

The girl, Rosie Celaya, 15, is in the Orange county hospital battling for her life with a bullet hole through the left eye socket and bruising about the legs and lower part of the body. She was forced to shoot the deer with his pistol in order to save his life, he reported.

According to information obtained from the park, several of the deer, part of the county's menagerie, had been acting in a queer manner for the past several days.

When Roberts stepped into the enclosure, the deer, infuriated at the intrusion, lowered his head and charged the officer. Roberts was knocked from his feet and gored before he could defend himself. He jumped up and battled with the animal for some time, masking little headway. Realizing that aid was not available, and that his life was at stake, he pulled his pistol and shot the deer several times, killing him.

Roberts then dragged himself to the nearest telephone, notified the sheriff's office, and was taken home.

Billy did not know the gun was loaded, he is said to have told the officer and when he pointed it at the girl, had no intention of shooting her.

Following the shooting, Santayo left the gun under the home of Ben Martinez, at Delhi. Steward said, where he found it. Santayo and Gallages were taken to the Juvenile home.

Physicians at the Orange county hospital, where the Celaya girl was taken, said today that her condition was extremely serious. There was a hope, they said, that she would recover, but the sight of the eye is permanently ruined, they declared.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—(UPI)—Gifts from Edward L. Doheny Jr., totaling $200,000, have been received by the University of Southern California, officials of the semi-centennial fund of the institution announced today.

10 KILLED DURING ELECTION IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Ten persons were killed and 30 wounded in political rioting in Puebla during the election Sunday, said a dispatch from that city today. Martial law was declared.

Factions supporting the gubernatorial candidates, Leonidas Alvarado Amazan and Gen. Luis Sierra, clashed during the balloting for governor of the state of Puebla. Fighting raged throughout the city.

Siddall's death resulted from an explosion in the garage in the rear of his home in Glencoe. He had been having motor trouble and was leaning over the engine with a lighted cigar in his mouth. A spark is believed to have fallen on the carburetor, which was on the carburetor.

President Coolidge told a number of senators at a breakfast conference Saturday he was anxious to secure American participation in the court.

Never has the telephone in the Register office been so busy as they were Saturday when thousands of subscribers called to find out what was delaying delivery. In fact there were so many calls that it was necessary for Manager Earl Morrow of the telephone company to designate two girls to handle Register calls.

While The Register dislikes appearing other than on time it is gratifying to know that the paper is so universally missed, on such occasions.

But the accident was unavoidable and newspapers like other industries have accidents.

THEY MISSED THE REGISTER

If ever the management doubted whether the reading public appreciated The Register, that doubt has been dispelled.

Due to press trouble, The Register didn't appear in the home of the Santa Ana readers until late Saturday.

DRY ENFORCEMENT MAY GO TO JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President-elect Herbert Hoover is working on a plan to transfer prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department, it is learned from his friends here.

The Anti-Saloon League and ardent drys opposed the scheme when it was first suggested by President Harding in 1921 but it is understood they have become convinced of the feasibility of the move as an aid to prohibition enforcement. It is expected Hoover will include the recommendation in his inaugural address, following it up with a recommendation for legislation to his new congress.

The idea of the project is to co-ordinate the enforcement and prosecution ends of the prohibition act. Federal district attorneys throughout the country direct largely the activities of agents, gathering up evidence. It is the attorney who must prosecute the cases. Technically, the agents are under the treasury department where they were placed by the original Volstead act on the theory that liquor enforcement would be like enforcement of the narcotic laws.

76 PERCENT SUBSCRIBED UP TO NOON

Reports at Luncheon Show $12,114 Still Left to Be Raised to Meet Goal 3178 HAVE PLEDGED

Four Persons Boost First Subscriptions by $250 Chairman Downing Says

TREMENDOUS new impetus was given to the workers of the community chest campaign when General Chairman Clyde Downing announced that four generous subscribers to the community chest had authorized him to add $250 each to their previous subscriptions, making a total of $1000 toward the goal of $15,630, which will mark success in this year's ambition. In addition to this $1000 the workers reported $2762.50 at today's luncheon. This brings the total subscriptions up to $39,526.11.

A meeting of the advance gift committee was called by Downing immediately after the luncheon and at this meeting plans were made to bring in the remaining subscriptions that were assigned to this committee.

The final report luncheon tomorrow will be held at St. Ann's Inn, at which time it is confidently expected reports will reveal that the goal had been reached. At the luncheon today it was disclosed that the school teachers had reported five percent of the total of the chest, and these subscriptions were held up as an example to the other citizens of the community. Chairman Downing pointed out that surely the income of the school teachers does not amount to five per cent of the total community's income and that those who are most closely in touch with our growing boys and girls are most generous in their contributions to the welfare agencies that are throwing the right influences around the boys and girls in their leisure time.

Special comment was made today of the splendid results of the industrial division which has been under the leadership of Robert E. Walker who has been working in close co-operation with B. V.

POSTMASTER STEPHENSON CONFIDENT NEW FEDERAL BUILDING COMING SOON

PURCHASE OF A site for a post office building in Santa Ana is quite certain to follow close on the heels of the visit of W. A. Newman, district engineer in charge of United States public buildings, declared Postmaster T. E. Stephenson today on his return from San Francisco. Stephenson held a conference with Newman in San Francisco, at which preliminary arrangements were made for Newman's survey of prospective sites in Santa Ana.

"I am authorized by Mr. Newman," said Stephenson, "to receive for him any offer that anyone or any group of men in Santa Ana want to make. Mr. Newman is to be here December 3, and at that time will inspect any property that may be offered. He will make a report on conditions as he finds them, and I feel sure that purchase will follow his recommendations.

"Moreover, the government at this time is not buying sites for the purpose of holding them. The reason for buying a site is to build upon it. Therefore, I am very much encouraged over the outlook, for I believe that construction of the new post office building will start within a short time, a year or two, after the site passes."

Harmony and co-operation are two factors sought by the United States in the selection of sites, continued the postmaster.

"First of all," said he, "the federal representatives want a site that will give general satisfaction to the patrons of the office. Location, therefore, ought to be as near the center of the business area as it is reasonably possible for it to be secured.

"Cities as a rule are very much interested in the location of their federal buildings, so much so that it is an uncommon thing for a city or citizens of a city to buy a site and present it

Driver Only Slightly Hurt As Car Plunges 150 Feet

LOS ANGELES AUTOIST DRUNK, POLICE CLAIM

Bodies Of Man and Woman Discovered In Burned Machine

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Nov. 26.—(INS)—The bodies of a man and woman both charred beyond recognition, were discovered in a burning automobile on Lake Shore drive, half a mile north of Crocker boulevard early today.

The positions of the bodies showed that no effort was made to escape from the burning auto, as would have been the case if they had realized the danger from the fire, according to Coroner Howard V. Groesbeck.

Authorities at Mt. Clemens said the fire evidently had started inside the car, as it was confined there.

NEW FEDERAL BUILDING IN S. A. ASSURED

that way can be added to the cost of the building."

Stephenson said that he is sure that Newman will not look with favor upon any site that may be offered that has a depth of only 125 feet.

"Naturally," said the postmaster, "as a citizen of Santa Ana and as Santa Ana's postmaster I am anxious that we secure an adequate site. We are expecting that when this building is constructed it will serve the city without alteration or addition to the building for years to come. In my interview with Mr. Newman, estimates of the growth of the office during the next ten years were used as a basis for reaching a conclusion as to how large a site should be bought. The size that Mr. Newman finds well suited to the purpose is 150 feet by 190 feet. The approximate area is 28,500 square feet."

In its construction, the United States treasury department, which has charge of federal buildings, follows a regulation requiring that there be at least a 40-foot space between the public building and the nearest private building. In that connection, the width of an alley can be taken into consideration. In general, a 10-foot setback is followed. If any effort were made to build on a 125-foot lot, but 65 feet would be left, and that is not depth enough for a post office building in Santa Ana. A depth of 150 feet, including the alley, if any, would prove acceptable, I am sure. The site could be deeper than 150 feet, but not very much less than 150, I believe, would prove satisfactory. The property should be on a corner."

The Chamber of Commerce or any other organization in the city is invited by the postmaster to submit any suggestion it may have for Newman's consideration.

"Mr. Newman," said Stephenson, "impressed me as being a man who knows every angle of his business, and, of course, his training and his long years of experience in handling large projects for the government leave no question concerning his ability and sincerity. He has bought numerous sites in the past year. He returned a few days ago from Seattle and other cities in the Northwest."

Representatives
At Meet Tonight

At a meeting in Pasadena, Saturday, of representatives of the various cities voting to enter the metropolitan water district, it was urged that each city at once appoint legal representatives to the board of directors so that necessary legal actions may be taken when necessary.

According to Col. S. H. Finley, organization of the board of directors will be made soon after receipt of articles of incorporation, which, it is expected, will be in about a week or 10 days.

It is probable that the Santa Ana city council tonight will name the two directors of this city.

A WORD OF COMFORT

A single deserter is looking out for himself of course assumes that the perfidy of one man will not do much harm.

He is terribly wrong. The example he sets brings confusion to the entire army and breaks down the morale which insures victory.

Amid your grief and loneliness you must start the campaign. The fact that your duty is hard, instead of excusing you from it, increases your responsibility and multiplies your influence.

Live your loyalty to the God of love during the darkest hours. His sun is even now shining in your heart.

WELL LIGHTED DISTRICTS HAVE FEWER THEFTS

Ornamental lighting systems in the residential districts justify their costs in burglary protection, in the opinion of Chief of Police Claude Rogers and City Engineer Clyde Jenken, following compilation of statistics showing the difference in the number of burglaries in the rightly lighted districts and those in districts where center suspension lamps obtain.

The check made by the officials revealed that since the first of the year there have been 145 burglaries in the city, the number including those in the business area. Of the total 68 were in the residential districts and of this number only 10 1/2 per cent were on streets on which are maintained ornamental lighting systems. Two of the 68 "jobs" occurred before systems were installed on some of the streets.

"While the total number of burglaries in the city since the first of the year may be surprising and alarming to some, the number is small per 1000 population, as compared with other cities of population similar to that of the city," Jenken said.

The engineer has combined a map and pin system for tabbing of illegal entries into homes and business houses of the city and will continue the check for the balance of the year.

LAUNA BEACH AS BIG GARDEN PLAN OF GROUP

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 26.—Deep interest and good attendance marked the first general effort of the recently organized Garden club of this city to stimulate interest in beautifying premises when, a meeting was held Saturday evening in the Community club. Dr. E. M. Mills, of Santa Ana, was the chief speaker.

Mrs. Fern Burford, president of the Garden club, stated that the purpose of the meeting was to promote interest in the program of the club for beautifying home gardens, and explained the ambition of the organization. This, she said, was eventually to make the city one big garden, but to start more modestly by planting shrubs, flowers, lawns and trees in the yards and on the premises of property owners who might become interested.

"If we can't do the big things, then let us do the small ones and spread our influence as rapidly as we can," the president stated. She said that it was the ambition of the club to be able to offer cash prizes a little later.

Dr. Mills was introduced as having been induced to come to the meeting through the efforts of J. Frank Purke, editor of the Santa Ana Register. His topic was given as "The Value of a Garden to a Community."

Complimenting Laguna Beach on its natural beauty, which he thought was unsurpassed in the entire world, Dr. Mills predicted that it would in time become the center of a great garden stretching from Venice to San Diego along the coast.

Going back over his own experience, largely with roses, the speaker told of the rose association of Syracuse, New York, formed by eight residents of a single block a number of years ago, its purpose being to foster the growing of roses.

"Now, this has grown into an association with 800 members, with a rose garden of 750 bushes, which will be 15,000 next year," he told his hearers.

The Syracuse rose garden, which had been named after him, was considered a civic asset, and was visited by 45,000 persons annually.

Continuing his talk on roses, Dr. Mills told his audience that the largest rose bush in the world is at Whittier, this state, and has a trunk 63 inches in circumference. Captain Thomas, of Beverly Hills, has a rose garden with 1500 varieties, he asserted.

Moresby White, city attorney, followed Dr. Mills, paid a tribute to the first speaker, likened the beauty of nature's permanent garden, told of acts of vandalism which are desecrating it, and then touched briefly on a plan which he hopes will build unique and beautiful lanes leading to the beaches. This plan would form citizens' committees to work out details. The assistance of the city council, the city engineer and himself was pledged. He thought these volunteer committees should also exercise supervision of the beaches.

That the latter are the heritage of man was Mr. White's assertion, but he said that each generation is in turn custodians, not sole heirs. He decried private ownership of beaches, which operate to restrict public use of them.

A musical program was given with James E. Son, leader of the Laguna Beach Marine band, playing a coronet solo, accompanied by Miss Edith McDonald; two songs by Mrs. La Rue Mayer, accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Schwankovsky, and a song by F. J. Schwankovsky, accompanied by Mrs. Schwankovsky.

The hall was decorated with exhibits made by nurserymen, and members of the Garden club brought seeds and slips to be exchanged to give a substantial and immediate value to the meeting.

MOHLER AMUCK AS SANTA ANA CRUSHED, 47-7

for the other. Farr and Brosseau backs, took turns at kicking goal after the first five but each "blew" one after Rugh's touch-downs.

Mohler Doesn't Delay

Santa Ana kicked off to start the championship battle and Farr went it to his 30-yard line. Orville Mohler did not long delay the painful proceedings. He and Neagle crashed through the Saint line for one first down and then Mohler lengthened and shortening his stride to meet each emergency, bluffed toward end, cut back and half-reversed his field and never stopped until he was behind his opposition's goal. Mohler shook off several tacklers en route, having to work for his long gain whereas in his subsequent sallies past the line of scrimmage he was never so much as threatened so skillfully was the Santa Ana secondary blotted out by the play by Mohler's interference.

Santa Ana wasn't disheartened. Receiving the kickoff, the Saints lashed out with a ground-gaining offense that had the Moors crying for mercy and had their efforts been crowned with success the whole ball game might possibly have been different. As it was, however, forward passes from Reboin to Captain "Doc" Hearn and diversified running attack advanced the ball to Alhambra's 8-yard line where a penalty for taking too much time between plays and a 12-yard fumble by Reboin on a triple pass erased an opportunity to tie the score.

The teams exchanged punts several times and it was well along in the second period before the Moors scored again and on an unusual play. Mohler booted from near midfield to the Santa Ana goal where the ball bounced high in the air. Reboin, apparently believing that one of his teammates had touched the sphere before it automatically became a touch-back, picked up the ball behind his own goal and raced across the end zone with a half dozen Moors in hot pursuit. Reboin got out a couple of yards from his goal and to the amazement of those close to the play Referee Sid Foster, who was right up on the play overruled Umpire Motts Blair, and called it a touchdown, where Foster was behind the kicking team, made Santa Ana take the ball on its 2-yard line instead of the 20-yard stripe.

Pass From Behind Goal

Then to the further consternation of all concerned, the Saints called a forward pass from behind their own goal and didn't have safety scored against them because Mohler intercepted it on Santa Ana's 16-yard line. That play made even the unorthodox Carnegie Tech outfit look like a bunch of bums.

Running plays gave Alhambra a first down on the 5-yard line. The Moors hammered away at the Santa Ana middle and on third down Neagle got to the goal line but fumbled when tackled and the ball in an impressive 65-yard the line. Santa Ana recovered there but Referee Foster ruled that Neagle had reached the goal before he fumbled although the Saints protested vigorously.

Alhambra's next one came with startling suddenness. The Saints had taken the kickoff after Neagle's touchdown and worked the ball in an impressive 65-yard drive right down the field to the Moors' 2-yard line and Reboin, going off left tackle, was all set to smash across for a score. He was hit hard on the goal-line and fumbled and the alert Seixas, scooping up the ball, ran all the way to the Santa Ana goal—98 yards away.

No Flukes About Mohler

There was nothing fluky about the next two Moor scores, however, for Mohler just outran the whole Saint team in first a 63-yard sotie and then a 64-yard sally. They both came in the third period and on top of the other touchdowns broke the spirit of the locals, of course. After them, Coach Oliver sent in a stream of substitutes, mostly inexperienced lads who will be eligible next season, and they put up a game defensive fight, both of the touchdown scored on them being on "breaks."

Forward passes took Santa Ana deep into Alhambra territory and Reboin, from his 10-yard line, was all set to hurl one that might result in a touch-down but Jack Rugh, an end, rushed through and blocked the ball, caught it on the 15-yard line as it came down and dashed 85 yards to a touch-down with nobody to dispute his way.

Alhambra, its first string still in the game, smashed through the Saint reserves for a series of first downs after the next kick-off but was held on the 2-yard line by the battling substitutes. Paul stood behind his own goal to kick out of danger but fumbled the pass from center and then dropped it, Rugh driving through the line and falling on the ball for a touch-down.

Paul made up for this miscue instant later when he caught the kickoff and never stopped until he was behind the Moor goal.

The Saint mid-mis were complete masters of the situation at all times against the Moors. Their first score came in the second quarter and the last in the third. A long pass from Lynn Chamberlain, quarterback, to Bill Quon and was completed over the goal line. Chamberlain's kick was no good. Santa Ana worked the ball steadily down the field for the last score. With Lane, Morris and Chamberlain alternating in ball packing, the Saints kept pushing the Moors back. Lane took the ball from the 15-yard line to the 5-yard strip and from there Chamberlain went over through right tackle, being downed on the goal. His kick for the extra point was wild.

Lane, Quon, Morris and Chamberlain all showed up well.

Orv Mohler, of course, was the star of the day but he received wonderful support from his low backs and that great line in front of him, especially Captain "Curly" Graham, Seixas and Carrol, who virtually cinched All-League honors with their strong offensive and defensive work.

SANTA ANA 'C' SQUAD DEFEATS ALHAMBRA, 12-0

By "SKY" DUNLAP

Marring a perfect score of five games lost and one tied, Santa Ana high school Class "Cees" did a Frank Herrell and won their last league game from the Alhambra Highites Saturday, 12 to 0. This victory officially closed the season for the 110's. Although San Diego has not been played yet, the Hilltoppers do not have a Cee team, due to the expense of traveling great distances.

JACIANS WILL ACT TONIGHT ON MERGER MOVE

Shall the junior chamber of commerce disband and enter the senior organization in a body?

This question, which precipitated a heated discussion at the last meeting of the Jacians, when an invitation from the senior group was read, will be discussed again tonight in Ketner's cafe. Definite action in the matter was deferred last Monday in order to give absent members an opportunity to voice their opinions before a decision was reached.

Tonight's session will be a special meeting, called for the purpose of airing opinions on the suggested move. A committee of Jacians has reported favorably on the proposal and considerable sentiment in favor of accepting the invitation was voiced at the last meeting.

On the other hand a number of members were opposed to the change, some of them wishing to see the older Jacians transfer to the senior body, leaving the junior unit in the hands of the younger members.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JAYSEE NOTES

Annual "Hello day" in the Santa Ana high school will come on November 28 this year, according to an announcement made by officials of the Girls' league, sponsor of the event.

The chief objective of the annual "Hello day" outside of financial gain, is to help high school students to become better acquainted and to make new friends. "Hello day" cards, printed for signing, will be put on sale in the school Wednesday and students are expected to buy one and have everyone possible sign them.

Through arrangements made with Vern Lang, studio foreman, members of the stage crew of the Santa Ana high school will visit Fournier's scenic studio, in Hollywood, in the near future.

The group also will visit and inspect Warner Brothers' theater, in Hollywood, and the Metropolitan and Vine street theaters, in Los Angeles, during the trip. Last year the crew made a similar trip and visited the Carthay Circle theater. Besides obtaining first hand information of the working parts on a great stage, the boys obtained ideas for bettering the stage in the high school here.

Admittance to all social functions sponsored by the Associated Students of the junior college is to be restricted to holders of Associated Student tickets or special tickets for which a fixed price will be charged, it was decided by the executive committee of the students at its meeting this morning. Although a written statement of the same regulation was made several years ago, it has not been enforced, it was brought out in the meeting. The practice in recent years has been to admit, free of charge, one guest per student and alumni. With the tightening of the regulation all guest and alumni tickets will be subject to a charge. Edwin Gerhardt, sophomore, is social commissioner of the students for the first semester of the college year.

GROWERS GET $91,284.32 IN 'CLEANUP' POOL

ORANGE, Nov. 26.—Final payments were made today to growers of the McPherson Heights Citrus association for returns from pool five, or the "clean up" pool, it was announced this morning by C. W. Post, manager of the association.

Payment to growers from this pool totaled $91,284.32. During the period of time covered by the pool, which closed the last of October, 16,573 packed boxes were shipped.

Total returns to the growers through the packing house are $508,711.67 and during the season 219 cars of 462 packed boxes, or 101,361 packed boxes, were shipped from the plant.

The average price per box this season greatly exceeded that of last year, Post stated. Last year the association shipped 387 carloads of fruit and total returns were approximately $660,000.

Post will leave the McPherson Heights association the first of the month to take charge of the Irvine Valencia Growers' association plant.

HERBERT HOOVER LIKES HIS LITTLE JOKE
PRESIDENT-ELECT NOT AS DEVOID OF HUMOR AS HE'S ALLEGED TO BE AND HERE ARE FEW OF HIS PET STORIES

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—To get a complete understanding of a famous man you must read the anecdotes that have clustered about him during his public career.

Herbert Hoover, just now, the subject of as many little stories as he undoubtedly will be a year later. But even so there is a fairly sizeable collection of yarns, humorous and otherwise, which have him as the central figure. Since they are interesting and afford valuable side-lights on the character of America's next president, some of them are recounted from the plant.

The first of all, there is Hoover's own favorite—a story that concerns a wartime crossing of the English channel on a boat which, as usual, was menaced by mines and submarines. Hoover was accustomed to square accounts with the steward at the end of the voyage, but on this occasion the steward came to him as the boat left the dock and said:

"I'm sorry, sir, but we may be sunk at any moment, so I must collect after each meal."

"Every time I think of that story it seems funnier," says Hoover.

Then there is the story, quite widely known, about something that happened during the Mississippi flood relief work. Hoover was staying at an ancient hotel in a small southern town. As he ordered his meal, he told the old colored waiter to bring him his coffee without cream. The waiter hesitated a moment, and then said:

"But Ah can give you coffee without milk."

"Sorry, boss. Ah can't give you coffee without cream because we ain't got no cream—but Ah can give you coffee without milk!"

Although Hoover is not known as a humorist of the Lincoln type, he has a certain dry sense of humor. A reporter entered his office a few months ago and found Hoover puffing on a cigar.

"Some of the politicians say you never smoked a cigar in your life," said the reporter.

Hoover studied his cigar for a moment.

"Well," he replied at length, "maybe they're right."

The Mississippi flood relief work brings another.

One night, Hoover says, he asked his assistant, George Akerson, to telephone a certain town upstream. Herbert, "what's the use of the river and see whether the flood had reached it yet. Akerson got the call through, but raised only a man who was nearly stone deaf.

"Any water there?" asked Akerson.

"Can't hear you," replied the man at the other end of the wire.

"Mr. Hoover wants to know if your main street is under water."

"Can't hear you."

Akerson fairly screamed the words into the telephone. They had no effect. Then, after a moment, the voice at the other end said:

"Mister, if you hold on here a few minutes I'll get out my skiff and row over to the cothouse and bring somebody back that can hear better."

Some of the anecdotes of Hoover's boyhood are fairly well known.

There is, for instance, the story of the time that creditors of Hoover's Uncle John's land company held an indignation meeting at the company office. When they became angry and abusive, young Herbert jumped up and turned out the lights, forcing them to disperse.

It had been broken.

Hoover greatly enjoys motoring and if left alone is a good driver. But if he gets to talking to someone else in the front seat he forgets about the automobile, and either drives at a snail's pace or at a race track speed, depending on the tempo of the conversation. For this reason, the rest of the family does not care greatly about having him drive.

Those are a few of the Hoover anecdotes. A year from now, when he has been in the White House for a time, there undoubtedly will be many more. Look at the way anecdotes about Calvin Coolidge sprang up after he became president.

HOOVER GREATLY ENJOYS MOTORING AND IF LEFT ALONE IS A GOOD DRIVER. BUT IF HE GETS TO TALKING TO SOMEONE ELSE IN THE FRONT SEAT HE FORGETS ABOUT THE AUTOMOBILE, AND EITHER DRIVES AT A SNAIL'S PACE OR AT A RACE TRACK SPEED, DEPENDING ON THE TEMPO OF THE CONVERSATION. FOR THIS REASON, THE REST OF THE FAMILY DOES NOT CARE GREATLY ABOUT HAVING HIM DRIVE.

Lovely November Wedding Held at Young Home Saturday

A lovely November wedding took place Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young, 1518 North Main street, when their daughter, Miss Helen Teresa Young, became the bride of Eugene Roy Hitt of Brea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hitt of Long Beach.

The spacious living rooms of the Young residence were abloom with golden chrysanthemums arranged against a background of maidenhair fern while the fire place in front of which the marriage service was read by the Very Rev. Monsignor Henry Eumellen, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, was banked with potted fern and graceful baskets of autumn flowers.

Two beautiful songs, "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "At Dawning" by Charles Wakefield Cadman, sung by Miss Elizabeth Eaton a dear friend of the Young family, were followed by the Lohengrin wedding march played by Mrs. George Lester as the bridal party descended the stairs and took its place in front of the improvised altar.

The bride, gowned in white satin crepe embroidered with seed pearls and carrying a lovely shower bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley, wore the lovely tulle wedding veil which had been worn by Mrs. Merle Hall at her wedding of last spring when Miss Young had been a bridesmaid.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Young, who was charming in pink taffeta and tulle which harmonized with her bouquet of pink sweet peas and fern. Thomas Hitt of Long Beach served his brother as best man.

An informal reception followed the impressive ritualistic service when the guests viewed the many handsome wedding gifts which had been presented the young people.

The bride chose a dark blue crepe frock for her going away outfit with accessories to match. As the young people took their departure for a honeymoon trip to Northern California, the bride threw her wedding bouquet to Miss Muriel Jerome. On their return to Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Hitt will make their home at the Windsor apartments at Eleventh and Main streets.

Mrs. Hitt is employed at the First National bank this city and Mr. Hitt is connected with the Shell Oil company at Santa Fe Springs. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hitt attended the Santa Ana high school.

The WOMAN'S DAY
by ALLENE SUMNER

Great men are one thing to the world, another thing to their wives. No new observation this, but there's a keenly fresh reminder of this truth in the recently published diaries of Sophia Tolstoy, widow of the great Count Leo Tolstoy. One of those diaries so naked, so full of heartbreak and writhing passions, that it could never be published while its creator lived.

She was a girl of 18 when she married Tolstoy, then 34. They lived together 48 years.

Tears featured her very wedded day more than smiles. First of all, she was forced to wait for the bridegroom at the church in humiliation and fear. The explanation that at the last moment he discovered that all his shirts were packed and that the luggage had to be chased to the depot only helped a little.

After the marriage, while waiting for the train, she reveals that the bridegroom reduced her to hysteria with his doubts about his love and her love and whether the marriage would work or not.

As usual, the woman's love was so much greater, so much more concentrated on love and marriage as the only interest of life than the man's, that she was in constant torture through doubt and jealousy.

"All is lost," she wrote in the fifth year of her marriage. "Sometimes he begins to talk to me and I shiver. It seems to me that suddenly he will begin to tell me that I'm repelled to him. I am a pitiful crushed reptile, needed by no one, dear to no one, incapable of anything, with humiliating love—love which no one needs and which will kill me."

There is an outbreak of fierce jealousy after she had read some of her husband's earlier journals telling of his various love affairs. She says that she burns to destroy every written word of his concerning women.

Her own sense of inferiority crushes her. Only two months after her marriage she writes—

"He is happy because he is gifted and intelligent. I am neither. I am even unable to find resources in myself. The gulf between us cannot be bridged. The world in which I live is narrow and small if he is excluded. But to live in our two worlds is impossible."

In the twentieth year of their marriage Tolstoy seems to have made up his mind that his most passionate desire was to leave his family. She is distraught—almost insane—tries to end her life by bathing in an icy pool, hoping that the shock will kill her.

She complains that he treats her as a stranger—that days and weeks and even months go by without his speaking to her. There are pitiful passages when she makes herself admit that he is not really worth her terrible love; that he is vain and selfish and sensual and cruel to everyone but those who can elevate himself. She resents her 13 children whom she calls "mere symbols of his lust which was all he ever had to give in exchange for my love."

But when one has finished the

The Tinymites were quite a sad, sad sight. As raindrops slowly fell from it, it seemed to drift apart. Said Scouty, "We're not safe at all. Our rowboat's just about to fall. I know that I am scared, because by the thumping of my heart."

"Well, why sit here and merely fret?" asked Copy. "Find a way to get out of this bad predicament before it is too late. Let's all think hard, and do our best, and with a plan we may be blessed. Our boat is tipping 'round again. It's hard to keep it straight!"

All sat in silence for a spell, and then the rest heard Clowny well, "I have a plan that ought to work, if downwind we should shoot." And then he added, loud, "All hail the bit of canvas in our sail. I'm sure that we can use it for a dandy parachute."

"A great idea," cried the bunch. "Where did you get that happy

charles one is not so impressed with the tragedy of being the wife of a man too great as with that of being the husband of a woman too small.

One questions that her devastating passion is "love" at all. It's infatuation and the old, old story of any human trying to make a life in total of just love, just marriage, just one other human being.

EVEREADY HOUR
NOW COMING TO PACIFIC COAST

The pioneer national radio broadcasting entertainment feature, the Eveready Hour, which originates in New York City, is coming to the Pacific coast.

This fact, of importance to all Pacific coast listeners, was made known in an announcement issued today from the offices of The Eveready Hour in New York.

The first of the famous hour-long programs of the original Eastern Eveready Hour will be broadcast tomorrow night, beginning at 6 p. m., by the following stations, which will participate in a network totalling 28 of the more important N. B. C. stations from coast to coast:

KGO, Oakland; KFI, Los Angeles; KGW, Portland; KOMO, Seattle; KHQ, Spokane.

As is known to coast listeners, the Eveready Hour's coast program has been broadcast each Tuesday night, beginning at 9 p. m., as a separate unit, while the eastern Eveready Hour, the first of the great national programs, covering the territory comprising the rest of the country, is broadcast at 9 o'clock in the evening, eastern standard time, which is equivalent to 6 p. m. Pacific coast time.

Under the new arrangements, listeners in California, Oregon and Washington will hear the same program, word for word, and note for note, as the listeners in the other states do. In other words, The Eveready Hour, sponsored since the beginning of radio broadcasting, will now include the entire United States in its immense family, with all of them listening in at the same time.

TROJANS RATED AS CHAMPS OF PACIFIC COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—With old King Football casting an apprehensive eye in the direction of the exits, the Trojans of Southern California today were in possession of the Pacific Coast championship and were preparing for their game at Los Angeles with Notre Dame, December 1.

Stanford was en route east to meet the Army at New York on the same day.

California was considering the possibility of meeting some representative team from either the East or South at Pasadena on New Years Day.

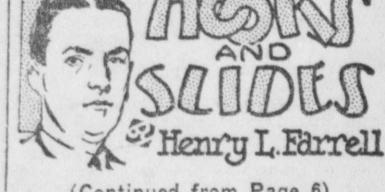

A few remaining teams were getting ready to settle their annual Thanksgiving Day games.

Meanwhile, football fans were still discussing the sensational tilt waged between Stanford and California at Berkeley Saturday. Although Stanford made the most yardage and the most first downs, the game was a tough one for the Bears to lose. At the end of the first half, they were leading 13 to 0. But "Pop" Warner sent a team into the second half which played California off its feet and when the final whistle blew the score was tied in a knot, each having 13 points.

The touchdown which tied the score was made in the last minute of play on a long pass over the goal line from Simkins to Frentrup. These two men replaced Captain "Biff" Hoffman and Frankie Wilton in the second half and it was their inspired playing which turned the tide when it appeared as if the Cardinals were doomed and that California would emerge in a tie with U. S. C. for coast title honors.

Fully 90,000 spectators witnessed the thrilling struggle. It was perhaps the most spectacular battle ever waged between the two teams and it was a limp crowd that filed out of the Memorial stadium after watching a contest that had everything a football game could be expected to have.

Lepipp got the same kind of an unhappy assignment last year when he was ordered by Rockne to stop Herb Joesting, the crashing Minnesota fullback. And he did stop him.

now asking the Western conference teams for games... Since they got all those big ball parks in the wilderness.

HAIL, THE NEW CHAMPS!

The disturbed feeling that even the brave American league pitchers have had for two seasons when they had to get Combs, Lazzeri, Ruth, Gehrig and Meusel out may be felt in the other league next season when the opposing pitchers are working on the Chicago Cubs.

English, Beck, Cuoyer, Hornsby, Wilson, Stephenson, Hartnett and Grimm offer a succession of batters that requires bearing down with very little chances for a let-up.

But it is not only in great batting power that the Cubs have their hope for a very important challenge in the next pennant race.

It will be a well balanced club with a good outfield, a tight infield, a great catcher and a staff of pitchers that was the best in the league at the close of the 1928 race.

There are chances that Cuoyer will be a better outfielder through the season than he was last year, and that Chailey Root will win many more ball games than he did.

SAT'S BOYS OBEY HIM

Knute Rockne was asked after the Army game to explain how his Notre Dame young men succeeded in stopping "Red" Cagle.

"It is not difficult to explain," he said. "You men of the press ought to know that it was a simple matter. I just called my young men together and told them they had to stop Cagle. And they stopped him."

But it develops in late reports from South Bend that there was something very definite in the method by which the Notre Dame boys stopped the Red.

George Leppig, one of the guards, it seems, was assigned to the particular duty of stopping Cagle. He had no other mission on the defense than to keep after the star Army back, and it was his job if he didn't deliver.

Leppig got the same kind of an unhappy assignment last year when he was ordered by Rockne to stop Herb Joesting, the crashing Minnesota fullback. And he did stop him.

ANOTHER MILLIONAIRE

The Babe returned from his barn-storming tour and paid a call on his bankers in New York. It was not purely a social call, as he tossed $10,000 on the desk and told the bankers to add that to his trust fund. With the addition of that sum the trust fund for the rainy day reached $120,000, and he can't touch a cent of the principal.

This $130,000 represents the savings from the Babe's revenue outside of baseball. He doesn't sign all those testimonials and write all those articles for nothing, and the $130,000 side money he has earned have been put away only in the last three years.

What he does with the $70,000 that he earns each year in salary from the Yankees is his own business. But it is quite certain that he hasn't thrown it away. When the Babe spends everyone knows about it. He is that kind of a spender.

TOO SMART FOR TRAP

Barney Dreyfuss was almost led into a trap in the early period of the negotiations between Chicago and Boston for Hornsby. The Cubs had a line out for Glenn Wright, the Pirate shortstop, and Dreyfuss was ready to do business until his fox ears picked up the word about the Hornsby deal. Barney then said nothing doing in his best way even when the Cubs said they wanted Wright for use in the Boston trade.

Dreyfuss is now ready to do business for Wright and he is said to be tempting the Braves.

He would like to have Richbourg and a couple of pitchers and he would like to see Wright in Boston where he couldn't make a real rival for the Pirates.

And as the Giants have a very good shortstop in Jackson, the Pirate owner would not have to fear the consequences of another demonstration of Boston friendship for New York.

A GOOD START

LONDON, Nov. 26.—This little infant got a good start toward being a fat man in a circus, anyhow. One hour after birth, a baby brought into the world by the wife of a miner near Coventry, weighed 17 1/2 pounds.

Chevyney, stellar halfback, the squad was in good physical condition.

Chevyney was walking with a cane as the result of a cut on his leg suffered during a practice session last week.
